In your community

Thousands of Yukoners were celebrating hockey last month, and Northwestel was right there in the thick of it. Whitehorse hosted the 2011 Scotiabank Hockey Day in Canada events from February 8th to 12th and Northwestel was one of the sponsors who helped to make it all happen.

The excitement had been building right across Yukon for the past few months, as community groups planned local festivities and hockey players honed their skills in preparation for the big week. The result was an exciting week of events and activities that provided something for everyone, including plenty of hockey games, clinics, and public skating opportunities, as well as presentations of music and film, historical exhibits and a chance to rub shoulders with hockey celebrities such as Trevor Linden, Wendell Clark, Don Cherry and Ron McLean. Some of the most thrilling events for hockey fans were the Western Hockey League game between the Kamloops Blazers and the Vancouver Giants, as well as the alumni match-ups between the Ottawa Senators and the Dawson City Nuggets.

"The Scotiabank Hockey Day in Canada celebration is a wonderful event that focuses on community and family activities," said Paul Flaherty, President and CEO of Northwestel. "This year's festivities in Whitehorse and Dawson City were a great success with many Yukoners and visitors coming out to celebrate hockey, have fun outdoors and enjoy our great Yukon winter season together."

Northwestel's support for Scotiabank Hockey Day in Canada included a hockey carnival at the Canada Games Centre on February 12th, Community Cable 9 carrying a live broadcast
